The purpose of the pre-job conference is to make union work assignments, convey project information and provide a detailed subcontractor listing to the PSA-signatory unions. The purpose of the pre-job conference is to identify and resolve all work assignment conflicts prior to work commencing. (PSA Articles 8 and 16)

Step 3 – Contractor Subscription: Once the general contractor has completed the pre-job conference and finalized union work assignments, the general contractor must ensure that it and its subcontractors register all core workers the applicable unions. While neither contractors nor workers are required to make a permanent commitment to joining any union when performing PSA-covered work, all workers are required to register and pay required fees to the applicable union. In addition, the union may require a project-specific participation or subscription agreement be signed by the general contractor or subcontractor. The participation/subscription agreement is binding only during execution of the PSA-covered project. If required, the participation/subscription agreement must be executed prior to commencement of work. (PSA Article 2)

Step 4 – Core Employee Registration: No employee is required to join any union as a condition of performing PSA-covered work. However, under the terms of the PSA, the general contractor agrees to recognize the unions as the exclusive bargaining representative for all employees engaged in PSA-covered work, including the general contractor's core workers and the core workers of non-union subcontractors. A worker must meet the eligibility requirements described in section 3.6(b) of the PSA to be considered a "core" worker. Registration is the means by which unions are made aware of the core workers they are contractually bound to represent. To facilitate registration of core workers, please follow the procedure (PSA Article 3):

- ✓ Once the union work assignment is made and prior to commencement of contractor's work, the applicable union(s) will provide a PSA project registration package to the contractor, outlining its registration policies and requirements.
- ✓ Prior to commencement of work, contractor will provide the applicable union with a list of core workers names, addresses, and phone numbers in writing, and schedules an appointment for each core worker to complete the registration process with the applicable union.
